

Deep Down™

Our ethos and approach is to craft authentic wines. For us this means farming organically and using little or no additives during the winemaking process, offering true transparency and an honest lens of the site, season and grape. Whilst we work as naturally as possible, we ensure our wines are safe and correct, and additions would be made if a wine requires. At the end of the day our wines must be true, yet delicious and digestible.

We genuinely believe an open and honest conversation on winemaking practises and additions is needed to shed light on how wines are produced, and what consumers are putting in their bodies.

We believe crafting wines without trickery or additions takes guts, honesty and intuition.
